Mountain Rescue Association Oral History Project

PURPOSE OF THE PROJECT

The MRA oral history project endeavors to capture the stories of MRA members and their experiences and contributions to mountain rescue. The project is coordinated by the University of Washington Libraries Special Collections and the MRA History Committee. MRA members are encouraged to participate by taking time to interview members whose stories preserve the history of the MRA since its founding in 1959. Recorded interviews will be archived in the Mountain Rescue Association records, which are part of the Pacific Northwest Collection at the University of Washington Libraries Special Collections. Recorded interviews will be made available online in Digital Collections.

THE INTERVIEW PROCESS

- Complete the life history form, interview cover sheet and oral history release form in advance to familiarize yourself with the person you are interviewing. You will send the forms along with the recording to Special Collections or to the MRA History Committee.
- Choose a location and environment suitable to conduct an uninterrupted recorded conversation.
- Prepare some questions for the interview to help move the conversation along.
- Choose recording equipment that you are comfortable using.
- After the interview contact Harry Patz, hpatz@alertcorp.com, of the MRA History Committee or the Pacific Northwest Curator at UW Special Collections pnwcoll@uw.edu to donate the recorded interview and the three interview forms.
